MR A. P. Happer, late Acting Chinese Secretary of the Imperial Customs, and recently appointed to the post of Commissioner at Pakhoi, has been transferred to Hankow, as Acting Deputy Commissioner.

WE learn from the Saigonnais of the 26th inst., that Governor Thomson, of Cochi China, was to leave Saigon on the 27th inst., by the M. M. Co.'s S. S. Peilio for France. General Bogin was to act as Governor during the absence of M, Thom-

THE Pioneer Suggests that the enormous 4 p.m.-Meeting of Shareholders of the railway plant which was sent out by the British Government to Suakim for the construction of the line between that place and Berber, now that the project has been abandoned, might be taken over-at a reduction-by the King of Siam, and used in the construction of the Bangkok Railway that the British Government contemplate which Mr Holt Hallett is promoting. The suggestion is one which might be acted on with advantage to all parties.

> THE adjourned inquest was heldmorning upon the body of Wong Achi, the Chinese boy who died from injuries receiv ed from a fall down a flight of stairs at No 31 Peel Street. Wong Amui, a carpenter uncle of the deceased, gave evidence to the effect that, at 5.10 p.m. on the 28th inst., he saw the decoased at the top of the stairs amusing himself with catching flies. This HERE is a Volunteer story from Yorkshire was shortly before the accident, which no. which may interest some of our great unbody appears to have witnessed. A doctor paid—and their Commandants. Fussy belonging to the Tung Wah Hospital said Colonel, an important local personage, inthat the boy was brought to the Hospital specting his men on parade, sees a grayin an insensible condition, suffering from something about the head. He died shortly after admission. Inspector Mathieson had visited the scene of the accident Volunteer, meekly,—'Only a Major-736 and found that the stairs down which de General, Sir. coased had fallen were 23ft. 6 in. in height. There were no suspicious circumstances in The Primose League as a political organis. connection with the case, and the jury re- ation is promising to become the most exturned a verdict of secidental death.

we must again protest against the system followed by Mr Wodehouse, as Coroner, in taking the evidence of witnesses at inquests. the Magistracy a number of the witnesses wore, instead of giving their testimony from the witness-box, from whence their statements could be heard by all in Court, seated in chairs on the platform in front of the bench, close to the Coroner. From this point their evidence could not be distinctly heard by anyone but the Coroner himself. The only evidence heard by the jury and the public in Court, from these witnesses, was not the statements of the witnesses themselves, but merely altered versions of the same put into the mouths of the witdepositions. This is not taking evidence, and depositions so taken are not worth the paper they are written upon. No report o the actual statements of witnesses can be recorded in the press owing to this action taken by the Coroner, in keeping the actual statements of the witnesses himself, and giving out to the jury ing the course of the coming struggle. and others in Court only his own sion of the evidence given. It is high time something were done to mend thi state of things. The same rule holds good to a great extent in the Police Court, in which Mr Wodehouse sits as magistrate, and has already given rise to much inconvenience in cases committed to the Supreme Court, by the wide difference in the evidence given by witnesses in the higher Mytho, Bangkok, July 3; Harter, Me- Court and at the Police Court. The fact tried to prevent him proceeding onward. Glaucus, Compton, Marcia, July 14; of the matter is that the statements put Marchani said Mr Stephen must wait until Orestes, Albany, July 17; Titania, down by Mr Wodehouse are frequently not that force would be used if he tried to prothe evidence of the witness at all, but are coed to Kelat-i-Nadri, the object of his trate, put down without any acknowledge. ment by the witness himself, or check of my kind whatever.

A CORRESPONDENT draws our attention the fact that we have as yet, omitted mention one point with reference to the issue The next American Mail, per the O. of permits for landing or taking off cargo it night. This is the distinction which should be drawn between taking off cargo and landing cargo, after dark. It is contended that to stop the useless custom of to largely among the Chinese, would be an shippers and the public. To interfere, was to be believed before that of their own on the other hand, with the landing of and after dark, it is alleged that the goods the Pinn case, will show M. de Giers that a while deposited in cargo-bosts are much new departure is being taken.

more open to damage or loss from weather or thioves than they would be when being landed or placed in godowns. It is further maintained that while the necessity for landing cargo really exists, that for taking off cargo is hardly worthy of consideration. We are glad to call attention to this point, because it ought to receive the most careful consideration in any future arrangements that may be made. As we have already stated, the action of the Captain Superintendent was suggested by the great increase in the number of permits granted to the Chinese,-the undue extension of the very system which our correspondent puts forward as the least necessary to the trade of the port. Of course, as it is now the fashion to apply the same rules to Europeans as to Chiuse, irrespective of their applicability, the stoppage of the general permits at once affected the European consignces as well as the coaling of steamprs. The tone and manner of Captain Deane's notification, published in the local papers, seem to have given considerable offence to European steamer-owners and consigned, and this it is said explains the absence of all replies to his request for opinions on the subject. WE learn from the Independente that th | Whother such objections would have been sum of $121,500 has been offered to the sufficient to justify silence, had not the Portuguese Government for the Fantan Attorney General's opinion turned up to Gambling Farm at Macao for the period render the permits unnecessary, it would of one year, which sum the Junta da Fa. be difficult to say. It is generally agreed zenda has refused to accept, and now fresh that the Captain Superintendent of Police tenders are being invited. These will be must have some authority to regulate Claims against the Westmeath must be received up to 1 p.m. of the 8th August traffic at night, so as to keep the Prays clear of all doubtful craft; and that is really the principal point in the discussion. It is of course desirable that this object should be attained with as little disturbance to trade as is possible, the interests of all parties being fairly considered.

> THERE is absolutely no truth in the statement made in Rangoon, says the Pioncer, sending a Mission to King Theebaw with a view of re-establishing the Residency at Mandalav.

> Some journals, says the Marao Independente, speak of the betrothal of H. H. the Prince Don Carlos of Braganza, to H.I.H. the Princess Frederica Amelia Guilhermina Victoria, the fourth daughter of the Prince Imperial of Germany, and grand-daughter of Queen Victoria of England. The young Princess was born at Potsdam on the 12th tensive and powerful which the Conservatives possess, and it is certain to play an important part in the coming election. In the interests of the public and of justice We are informed by Sir Henry Drummond Wolff that the idea of this League originated in the fertile brain of Lord Randolph In the three enquiries held this morning at Churchill, If this is so; the noble lord has every reason to be proud of his invention. and the creation of the Primrose League alone gives him a powerful claim upon the gratitude of his party. A Ladies' Branch of the Primrese League has been in course of formation for some few months past, and the Grand Council of this branch held its inaugural meeting at the Marquis of Salisbury's London residence. It is to be called the Grand Council of the Dames of the League, and, says the Morning Post, has arisen out of a Ladies' Committee formed, in the first instance, by Lady Borthwick and a few friends. It is intended to be a thoroughly representative body, consisting of delegates of the Dames Habitations throughout the country. Over two hundred ladies assembled at Lord Salisbury's house; nesses by the Coroner and put down in his one hundred and twenty of them being ladies of title. In this latter number there were three duchesses, eight marchionesses, fourteen countesses and eight viscountesses. -an evidence that the Ladies League is popular amongst all ranks of the aristocrany. The meeting was addressed by Lord John Manners, Sir Stafford Northwite and Lord George Hamilton, all of whom impressed upon their fair hearers the necessity of using their influence upon the electors dur-

a spy, although his master's camp was close at hand, calls to mind an incident of Mr Condie Stephen's journey in the Atek in February 1883. Mr Stephen when nearing Chachs, which was always supposed to be in Persian territory, was met by a Georgian officer in the Russian service, named Marchani, who in dictatorial language a permit was received from Askabad, and journey. A Persian escort was on its way from Kelat to meet the British officer, and Marchani met it and tried to induce the officer in command to retire. According to the Blue-book the Russian officer said he had orders to come out and meet Mr Stephen and he must carry them out Finally the Russian allowed the escort to arrive, but his language was violent and unreasonable. Now this incident was made the subject of diplomatic negotiations between London and St. Pelefsburg, but M. de Giers upheld Marchani in his blank contradiction of Mr Stephens statements - Marchani had taken every care to avoid employing any terms of a nature to offend the travellers, &c., &c. M. de Giers hoped that the British Government would see that taking off or shipping cargo, which prevails it was all a misunderstanding and the British Government aid eventually look at the incident in this light.
